

J. David Richen
Architect

Consultant to Religious Communities

Master planning

Ecclesiastical architecture

Liturgical art

1913
S.W. Canby
Portland
Oregon 97219
(503) 244-0958

February 14, 2008

Dean Glover, Vice President
Hunter-Davisson, Inc.
1800 S.E. Pershing St.
Portland, Oregon 97202

Re: Our Lady of Guadalupe Trappist Abbey Church

Dear Dean:

Thank you for the extraordinary level of service and skill which you personally contributed to our design team for the new Trappist Abbey church. As you know, this is the first project in which we retained you for design services in addition to contracting with your company for mechanical equipment installation. I am very pleased with our collaboration and with your prompt, courteous and effective responses to each and every suggestion or concern that my clients or I have had during the course of design, construction and commissioning.

I have always found Hunter-Davisson crews to be top-flight and professional. As you know our work involves a lot of personal client contact with multiple personnel and personalities. Your people have consistently demonstrated good will and professionalism in addition to a high level of competency on all the many projects we have done together. I believe that this starts at the top of your organization; beginning with people like you.

The monks and I owe you a debt of gratitude for designing and constructing a first class system for the new church. I look forward to continuing our working relationship on the next phases of work for the Abbey as well as other possible projects. Please do not hesitate to use me as a reference at any time.

Thanks again!

Sincerely,

J. David Richen, Architect